

30-DAY AI JOB SEARCH IMPLEMENTATION PLAN

A day-by-day routine that turns your Career Pilot toolkit into a repeatable job-search system.

The AI Job Search Blueprint (50 prompts)

AI Job Search Checklist

AI-Ready Resume Template

Job Application Tracker

How This Plan Works

One clear job for each day. Most days take 45 to 90 minutes. By Day 30 you will have the materials, the habits, and the tracking to keep going on your own.

The 6 rules

1. Do the day, not the week. Each day has one goal. Finish it, tick it off, stop. Small daily progress beats occasional big pushes.
2. Missed a day? Continue, do not restart. Pick up where you left off. A late day is far better than an abandoned plan.
3. Real information only. AI should improve how you present your real experience. Never let it add skills, tools, numbers or jobs you do not have.
4. Log everything. Every application, message and follow-up goes into the Job Application Tracker. What you measure, you can improve.
5. Adapt the wording to your situation. Freshers: where the prompts say "work experience," use internships, projects, coursework, clubs and volunteering.
6. Protect your data. Do not paste ID numbers, bank details or your full home address into any AI tool.

What you will have by Day 30

- A clear target role, a backup plan, and a list of 10 to 20 target companies
- A tailored master resume built in the AI-Ready Resume Template, and an updated LinkedIn profile
- About 8 to 10 quality, tailored applications sent, each logged in your Tracker
- Outreach messages sent to recruiters and people in your target roles, plus timely follow-ups
- Interview answers prepared and practiced, and a salary and offer plan ready
- A weekly routine you can repeat until you find the right role

Your daily 3-step rhythm

1. Read the day card (2 minutes). Check the goal and the "Done when" line.
2. Do the actions using the tagged prompts and resources. Keep AI outputs honest and edit them in your own voice.
3. Tick it, log it, stop. Update your Tracker, then close the laptop. Tomorrow has its own goal.

How to read the day cards

Tags like P12 mean Prompt 12 in The AI Job Search Blueprint. Tags such as Tracker, Checklist, Resume Template and Quick Start mean the matching item in your Career Pilot bundle. Every card ends with a "Done when" line so you know exactly when to stop.

This plan builds your materials, routine and momentum. It cannot promise a job: results depend on the job market, your role, your background and your effort.

Know Your Value and Choose Your Target

Goal for the week: Know your strengths, choose one primary role, and list the companies you will target.

DAY

1

45 min

Set Up Your Job-Search Base

Get organized so the next 29 days run smoothly.

- Read the AI Job Search Checklist once, then print 2 to 3 copies of the Job Application Tracker.
- Create one folder called "Job Search" with sub-folders: Resume, Job Descriptions, Applications.
- Choose your daily time slot and your weekly hours. P49 can turn them into a schedule.

USE

Checklist

Tracker

P49

Done when: folder created, Tracker printed, daily time slot chosen.

2

60 min

Discover Your Strengths

Know what you are genuinely good at, in words you can reuse.

- Write down your real background: jobs, internships, projects, coursework, clubs, volunteering.
- Run P1 (transferable skills), then P2 (professional strengths) using that text.
- Save your best 5 strengths, each with its evidence, in one note called "Strengths".

USE

P1

P2

Done when: you have 5 strengths, each backed by a real example.

3

60 min

Turn Duties into Achievements

Replace vague duties with clear proof of what you did.

- List 5 to 8 things you did that mattered: tasks, projects, results, responsibilities.
- Run P3 to rewrite them, then P14 to find real numbers you could add. Never guess a number.
- Save the strongest 6 to 8 bullets in a note called "Bullet Bank".

USE

P3

P14

Done when: your Bullet Bank has 6 to 8 specific, true bullets.

4

45 min

Define How You Stand Out

Be ready to answer "Tell me about yourself" clearly.

- Run P4 to find 3 to 5 genuine differentiators, ranked strongest to weakest.
- Run P5 to create a one-sentence intro, a 30-second version and a short summary.
- Read your 30-second version aloud twice and edit it until it sounds like you.

USE

P4

P5

Done when: your one-line intro and 30-second pitch are saved.

5

60 min

Choose Your Target Role

Pick one primary role and two backup roles.

- Run P6 (suitable job titles). If you are switching fields, also run P7 (adjacent career paths).
- Read 3 real job postings for your top choices and cross off roles that need what you clearly lack.
- Write 1 primary and 2 backup roles at the top of your Tracker.

USE

P6

P7

Tracker

Done when: one primary role and two backups are written down.

6

45 min

Find and Rank Your Skill Gaps

Know what to strengthen without delaying your search.

- Pick 2 real job descriptions for your primary role and run P8 to decode each one.
- Run P10 to sort gaps into Critical, Important and Nice to have.
- Choose 1 or 2 gaps to start closing with 20 minutes a day, but keep applying while you learn.

USE

P8

P10

Done when: you have 1 or 2 learning goals with a start date.

7

45 min

Build a Company List and Review Week 1

Finish the week with a target list and a scorecard.

- List 10 to 20 companies that hire for your primary role. Use company career pages and job portals.
- Fill in the Weekly Review section of the Checklist.
- Take the rest of the day off. The review is the only work today.

USE

Checklist

Done when: 10 to 20 companies are listed and the weekly review is filled in.

WEEK 2

DAYS 8 - 14

Build Your Application Toolkit

Goal for the week: Finish a master resume, update LinkedIn, and shortlist your first three jobs.

DAY

8

45 min

Collect Real Job Descriptions

Base your resume on what employers actually ask for.

- Save 5 real job descriptions for your primary role in your Job Descriptions folder.
- Run P16 on each to extract top skills, tools and terms. Note the ones that appear in at least 3 postings.
- Mark only the ones you genuinely have. This is your honest keyword list.

USE

P16

P8

Done when: 5 job descriptions are saved and your keyword list is written.

9

90 min

Build Your Master Resume

Create the base resume you will tailor for every job.

- Open the AI-Ready Resume Template and fill every section using your Bullet Bank.
- Run P12 for your summary and P13 to rewrite any weak bullets. Delete unused sections and all [brackets].
- Keep it to one page if you are a fresher, and at most two pages if you have 5 or more years of experience.

USE

Resume Template

P12

P13

Done when: the master resume is complete with no [brackets] left.

10

60 min

Strengthen and Audit Your Resume

Fix the biggest weaknesses before anyone else sees it.

- Run P11 for your primary role and make the top 5 to 10 improvements it suggests.
- Use P14 again on any bullet that still has no real result.
- Proofread aloud, and ask one person you trust to point out anything unclear.

USE

P11

P14

Done when: the audited resume is saved as MasterResume_v1.

DAY

11

60 min

LinkedIn: Headline and About

Make your profile clear about who you are and what you want.

- Run P21 for 5 headline options and choose the clearest, not the fanciest.
- Run P22 to draft your About section, then rewrite it in your own voice.
- Check that your photo, location and contact details are complete.

USE

P21

P22

Done when: your new headline and About section are live.

12

60 min

LinkedIn: Experience, Keywords and Audit

Make your profile match your resume.

- Run P23 on each role or project description and update it.
- Run P24, then add your genuine keywords to the headline, About, Experience and Skills.
- Paste your full profile text into P25 and fix its top 3 issues.

USE

P23

P24

P25

Done when: your profile and resume tell the same story.

13

60 min

Score and Shortlist Jobs

Choose the jobs that are worth your time.

- Find 8 to 10 live openings for your primary role from your company list and job portals.
- Run P9 (fit score) on each. Pick the top 3. Strong matches on core requirements are enough to apply.
- Log all 3 in the Tracker and circle S (Saved).

USE

P9

Tracker

Done when: 3 jobs are shortlisted and saved in the Tracker.

14

45 min

Review Week 2 and Get Ready to Apply

Be ready to send applications from tomorrow.

- Fill in the Weekly Review in the Checklist.
- Read the Quick Start guide again so the application steps are fresh.
- Block out your time slots for Days 15 to 17 in your calendar.

USE

Checklist

Quick Start

Done when: weekly review is filled in and your next three sessions are booked.

WEEK 3

DAYS 15 - 21

Apply Strategically and Start Conversations

Goal for the week: Send five tailored applications, start outreach, and make your first follow-ups.

15

90 min

Application 1: Follow the Quick Start

Submit your first properly tailored application.

- Follow the Quick Start guide using job #1 from your shortlist.
- Compare with P17, align wording with P18, then check risks with P19 and finish with P20. Add a cover letter (P27) only if it is requested or genuinely helps.
- Submit it, log it in the Tracker, and set a follow-up date 5 to 7 days ahead.

USE

P27

Done when: application #1 is submitted and logged.

16

75 min

Application 2

Repeat the process faster, without lowering quality.

- Tailor a fresh copy of your master resume for job #2. Save it as a separate file.
- Use P28 for any application questions and P29 to explain why you want this company.
- Run P30 before you submit, then log it in the Tracker.

USE P17 P18 P28 P29 P30

Done when: application #2 is submitted and logged.

17

60 min

Application 3

Build speed while keeping quality high.

- Use P26 to decide what to emphasize for job #3, then tailor the resume with P18.
- Run P30 for a final check and fix the top issues.
- Submit, log it, and note how long the whole process took. Aim to beat your Day 15 time.

USE P26 P18 P30

Done when: three tailored applications are sent.

18

60 min

Find the Right People

Start conversations with people close to the roles you want.

- Run P31 to learn which types of people to contact: recruiters, team members, alumni.
- Find 5 real people on LinkedIn at your target companies or in your target role.
- Send 3 personalized connection requests using P32. Do not ask for a job in the first message.

USE P31 P32

Done when: 5 people are found and 3 connection requests are sent.

19

45 min

Message Recruiters and Ask for Insight

Make polite, specific contact with people who can help.

- Use P33 to message one recruiter who is hiring for a role that fits you. Keep it short.
- Use P34 to ask one person in your target role for a short informational chat.
- Log each message in the Tracker (contact and notes columns).

USE P33 P34 Tracker

Done when: 2 or 3 messages are sent and logged.

20

45 min

Follow Up

Follow up professionally on your first applications.

- For applications sent 5 to 7 days ago, use P47 to write a short follow-up by email or LinkedIn.
- For outreach with no reply after a week, send one polite nudge using P35, then leave it.
- Update statuses in the Tracker and circle F (Followed up).

USE P47 P35 Tracker

Done when: every overdue follow-up has been sent.

21

75 min

Apply More and Review Week 3

Keep your momentum and learn from what is happening.

- Submit 2 more tailored applications using your routine. Use P30 before each.
- Fill in the Weekly Review: note responses, interviews and rejections.
- If you have rejections or silence, run P48 to find lessons. Do not assume reasons that you cannot verify.

USE P17 P18 P30 P48 Checklist

Done when: 5 applications are sent in total and the week is reviewed.

WEEK 4

DAYS 22 - 30

Interview, Offer and Your System

Goal for the week: Be interview-ready and offer-ready, then turn the month into a weekly routine.

22

60 min

Predict Interview Questions

Know what you are likely to be asked.

- Use your strongest target job description and your resume with P36 to get 15 likely questions.
- Mark the 5 hardest questions for you.
- Write rough bullet answers for those 5, using real examples only.

USE P36

Done when: you have 15 questions and 5 rough answers.

23

60 min

Build Strong Answers

Turn rough notes into clear spoken answers.

- Run P37 on each of your 5 hardest questions to structure them as Situation, Action, Result.
- Polish your "Tell me about yourself" from Day 4 (P5) and prepare "Why this company?" with P29.
- Practice each answer aloud twice and keep it to about 60 to 90 seconds.

USE P37 P5 P29

Done when: 5 answers, your intro and "Why this company?" are ready.

DAY

24

45 min

Prepare for Tough Questions

Handle gaps and weaknesses honestly and calmly.

- If you are changing fields, run P38 to explain your transition.
- Run P39 for any gap, weakness or lack of experience you expect to be asked about.
- Write honest answers only. Never hide a gap and never invent progress.

USE P38 P39

Done when: honest answers to your toughest questions are written.

25

60 min

Run a Mock Interview

Practice under realistic conditions.

- Run P40 with a real job description and your resume. Answer one question at a time, aloud if you can.
- Note your 3 lowest-scored answers.
- Rewrite those 3 with P37 and practice them again.

USE P40 P37

Done when: the mock interview is complete and 3 answers are improved.

DAY

26

90 min

Run the Full Loop on Your Own

Prove you can repeat the routine without help.

- Apply to 3 new jobs using Quick Start steps 3 to 8.
- Send 3 new outreach messages using P32 or P33.
- Log every action in the Tracker.

USE Quick Start P9 P17 P18 P30 P32 P33

Done when: 3 applications and 3 messages are sent and logged.

DAY

27

60 min

Follow Up and Salary Research

Follow up on time and prepare for money questions early.

- Follow up on applications from Day 21 with P47. After any interview, send a thank-you within 24 hours using P46.
- Use P41 to estimate a fair salary range, then verify it against current data from at least two independent sources.
- Use P42 to prepare your answer to "What are your salary expectations?"

USE P47 P46 P41 P42

Done when: follow-ups are sent and your salary range and answer are drafted.

DAY

28

45 min

Get Offer-Ready

Know how to judge an offer before one arrives.

- Write down your top 3 priorities: for example salary, growth, location, flexibility or stability.
- Run P43 on a real offer, or on a sample offer you write, to see what a full analysis covers.
- Read P44 (negotiation) and P45 (should you accept?), then write down your walk-away points.

USE P43 P44 P45

Done when: your priorities and walk-away points are written.

DAY

29

60 min

Review Your Month

Find your bottleneck so next month is better.

- Total your Tracker: applications, responses, interviews, offers. Fill in the scorecard on the last page.
- Diagnose: few replies means fix the resume and targeting (P11, P17, P19). Interviews but no offers means practice (P40, P37). Few applications means fix your plan and time (P49).
- Choose ONE thing to improve next month.

USE Tracker Checklist P48

Done when: the scorecard is filled in and you have chosen one focus.

DAY

30

60 min

Build Your Repeatable System

Turn this month into a routine you can keep.

- Run P50 with your real details to create your weekly job-search workflow.
- Set targets for the next 30 days: applications, outreach messages and follow-up days each week.
- Print fresh Tracker sheets and schedule your weekly review for the same day every week.

USE P50 P49 Tracker Checklist

Done when: your weekly routine and next-month targets are written down.

Your Scorecard and Weekly Routine

Fill in your Day 30 numbers, then use the weekly routine below until you land the right role.

Your Day 30 scorecard

Measure	My number
Applications sent
Follow-ups sent
Outreach messages sent
Replies received
Interviews
Offers
Biggest lesson this month
One thing I will improve next month

Your weekly routine from now on

Mon	Find and score 5 new jobs	P9
Tue	Apply to 2 or 3 jobs	P17, P18, P30
Wed	Apply, plus send outreach messages	P32, P33
Thu	Follow up, and work on one skill gap	P47, P35
Fri	Interview practice	P36, P37, P40
Sat	Weekly review and Tracker update	Checklist
Sun	Rest

Adjust the days to fit your life. What matters is that the loop keeps running: find, tailor, apply, reach out, follow up, practice, review.
